3 of 3 review helpful Great book for discussion By Susan and Larry Our book club chose this book for our October selection and the discussion proved to be one of the best discussions we've had Most of us had no idea of the severity of the Irish Famine or the underlying causes It was hard to accept the horrible injustices and deliberate cruelty the British imposed on Ireland and the Irish people The details in the book It is 1845 and eighteen year old Liam Reilly has no idea that his world is about to be shattered He cherishes County Mayo with its beauty and close family even though life is hard As tenants the Reilly family grows grain to pay high rent to the English landlord while they eat mainly potatoes He and other Irish are not aware that for the last twenty years the British government has been urging landlords to evict tenants in order to provide pastures for ranc May the sun shine on this book that plumbs the joy and despair of days that will never be forgotten It will stir readers as it stirred the author's heart Carolyn Hart award winning novelist and mystery writer The author
